PROGRAM INFORMATION

THANK YOU for encouraging us to move forward with a virtual offering of this historically great conference. These educational offerings specifically target primary care physicians and advance practice clinicians. The focus is to provide the learner with proven treatment options for disease states prevalent in our region. The learner will be provided content that is supported by evidence-based therapies with some examples of proven outcomes data within the NMHS system. This year's format addresses key concerns for all providers via a live Webex offering and a virtual library featuring chronic disease management, targeted pharmacology and five full hours of controlled substance/prescribing credits.

Webex Live Offering: Post COVID-19: Thoughts & Questions for Survivors

"If you get the virus, can you get it again?" "What does it hurt to get the virus if I don't get too sick and will I have the antibodies when I recover?" "What are super spreaders?" "Should I send my child to school?" These are just a few questions this session will challenge the participant to ponder as discussion and additional information is shared by those caring for the COVID patients. We will also hear from those who have experienced the virus firsthand via an interview led by Dr. Blanchard highlighting the patient/family experience and the provider perspective.

4-8 p.m. Moderator: Jeremy Blanchard, M.D., MMS, NMHS Chief Medical Officer
Current State of COVID-19 in Mississippi

SEPTEMBER 14 – OCTOBER 31

E-Learning Library: Participants will have the opportunity to register for each tract. Once registration is confirmed and payment received, information on how to access and complete each tract will be emailed. You may complete as many offerings within each tract as you wish. Each tract will offer 6 to 10 separate topics and require a registration fee. A full listing of offerings will be provided during the live Webex offering on Thursday, August 20.

I. Chronic Disease Management

Specialists will address specific gaps and challenges in managing disease states prevalent in our region as well as the effects of having more than one chronic disease and discuss the variation of treatments required in properly maintaining the patient's health.

II. Prescribing of Controlled Substances

NMMC CME Program is partnering with Global Training Institute to provide 6.0 hours of topics targeting the management and prescribing of controlled substances. Discussion will include recent updates, current regulations, recognition of addiction, prescribing requirements, alternative treatments, etc.

III. Medley of Targeted Topics

Specialists will address specific gaps and challenges in managing day-to-day illnesses encountered in the clinic setting. These topics include the sharing of clinical as well as professional subject matter and will encourage learners to actively apply what they've learned into their own practice.

IV. Post COVID-19: Thoughts & Questions

This session will be recorded and placed in the internet library for those who are unable to view the session live. A registration fee will be associated with the recorded session. No fee associated with the live session.
